

François Vallée

Born in Sherbrooke, François has always been interested in drawing and sports. Passionate about hockey, his drawings often represent his childhood heroes playing our national sport. As an elementary school physical education teacher, he can pursue and transmit his passion through his work and leisure as well.

As a self-taught folk art painter, François' colorful and lively creations are inspired by memories of his youth, his travels and his imagination. Through his work, it is possible to travel within our own memories or simply imagine the story revealed in front of us.
